

I agree with my husband's comments as stated below.

K-LOVE Locally serves my community in several ways.

It plays contemporary Christian music that I enjoy and cannot find on any other station. K-LOVE is the only radio station that I listen to. It has messages of encouragement that are positive and uplifting. I am informed about local Christian concerts at local churches and civic centers. I financially support this station to help keep it in my area because it is one of a kind. I have benefited from it in many intangible ways.

The effect on the local community if K-LOVE is displaced would be for some such as myself an elimination of radio listening.

I believe K-Love is in the best interest of the public and the fact that it is completely supported by its listeners should speak volumes. I believe it is one of very few Christian stations that can be heard without concern of filth and poor values being broadcast. I can't believe we have to fight to keep good moral values on the air. It grieves me that our country as a whole is moving in such a Godless or anti-Christian direction. We should be making it difficult to remove a station such as K-LOVE and not discriminating against Christian values.
